

ATTACKS ON SEC CLINTON 6-26-15

Summary

- Rand Paul said that Secretary Clinton wants American workers to pay thousands more in payroll taxes.
- Carly Fiorina called Secretary Clinton “hardworking” and “serious” but said she still disagrees with all of Clinton’s policies.
- Carly Fiorina said Secretary Clinton’s “ambition outweighs ability to be effective leader.”
- Carly Fiorina said the probability of Secretary Clinton becoming the Democratic nominee was “exceedingly high.”
- Carly Fiorina said Secretary Clinton wrongly declared victory in Iraq, called Assad a reformer, and gave Putin a reset button, and said someone should ask Clinton whether we should have pulled out of Iraq in the first place.
- Rand Paul attacked Secretary Clinton for her support for intervention in Libya and asked if we are better off now than we were before Qadhafi was gone.
- Bobby Jindal accused Secretary Clinton of ignoring our allies.
- Bobby Jindal said Clinton and Obama were wrong not to call radical Islam evil.
- Jeb Bush said Clinton did not think America’s presence in the world was a force for good, said he could not name an accomplishment from her time as Secretary, and cited Libya and Russia’s ‘reset’ as policies of hers that have led to a less safe world.
- Jeb Bush said Obama and Clinton have created instability and a situation where lives have been lost in Iraq and Syria.
- Marco Rubio said Clinton failed to reform the United Nations.
- Scott Walker said the recent OPM hack is a result of Secretary Clinton’s weakness toward China.
- Scott Walker noted the fact that Secretary Clinton quoted the song “Yesterday,” which came out before he was born.
- Carly Fiorina said she did not think Secretary Clinton was honest or trustworthy.
- Jeb Bush criticized Secretary Clinton for refusing to answer a hypothetical question before the King v. Burwell ruling.
- George Pataki called Secretary Clinton a politician who put herself above the laws that the rest of Americans follow.
- Carly Fiorina said that Secretary Clinton would not only be a third Obama term, but go further than she did.
- Bobby Jindal said he worried about what Clinton and Obama were trying to do to America.
- Carly Fiorina said that by speaking out in the aftermath of the Charleston shooting, Clinton was “continuing Obama’s legacy of identity.”
- Bobby Jindal said that Clinton and Obama were trying to “turn the American dream into socialism,” and said that Clinton was running for Obama’s third term.
- Jeb Bush criticized Secretary Clinton over her use of a private server.
- Donald Trump said that Democrats were able to “get away with” things like “Benghazi or the emails” in a way conservatives could not.
- George Pataki said that Clinton’s use of a home server was a crime and that concern about her own political career led her to “jeopardize critical American communications.”
- Carly Fiorina said that Obama and Clinton’s lies over Benghazi led terrorists to conclude that U.S. lacks resolve and disrespected families of the fallen.
- Carly Fiorina called the policies on women that Clinton espoused “damaging.”
- Rand Paul said he’s beating Clinton in states that Obama won.
- Jeb Bush implied that Clinton was not informed by her faith, as he was.

- Bobby Jindal hit Secretary Clinton over religious liberty, saying she was trying to divide Americans by religion, ethnicity, and economic status.
- Bobby Jindal accused Clinton of comparing his commitment to religious liberty to the “torture of women in Afghanistan and other violent acts.”
- Jeb Bush called Clinton’s comparison of Christians to Islamic extremists “insulting.”
- Jeb Bush hit Clinton for opposing Hobby Lobby and the Little Sisters of the Poor.
- Carly Fiorina accused Secretary Clinton of hypocrisy for taking money from countries that mistreat women.
- Bobby Jindal said Secretary Clinton wanted to end the debate on Obamacare.
- Lindsey Graham said Secretary Clinton will “make Obamacare her own.”
- Ted Cruz said that anyone who sees a premium decrease of $2500 should vote for Secretary Clinton, and he’d take anyone else.
- Bobby Jindal said Secretary Clinton wanted to grow the government, not the real economy.
- Carly Fiorina said that Clinton’s energy policies would raise energy costs for the middle class.
- Bobby Jindal said that unlike Clinton and Obama, his ideas on marriage equality were “not evolving.”
- Jeb Bush linked Clinton to Bill deBlasio, saying they wanted to undermine good school programs for low-income children.
- Carly Fiorina said Clinton never criticized baseball players or Hollywood moguls for making too much money.
- George Pataki called the Obama-Clinton approach to climate change a “disaster.”
- Donald Trump hit Secretary Clinton for attacking him in the aftermath of the Charleston shooting.

[Q&A]

Bernie has pulled close to HRC. Do you think another Democrat might get in?

- Honestly I have no idea
- I don't know what those people are thinking
- The probability of HRC being nominee is exceedingly high
- We'll see if I'm right about that
- Today we had 3 coordinated terrorist attacks in 3 nations for which ISIS took responsibility
- Innocents were slaughtered, it's an example of pivotal moment we're at
- It's vitally important that we have a discussion about how America must lead in the world
- I will remind you that HRC has been wrong on so many of these issues
- Ex: declaring victory in Iraq, calling Assad a positive reformer, reset button for Putin
- On Day 1 I would call my good friend Bibi and Supreme Leader of Iran, I would take action against Putin, and hold Camp David summit for Arab allies
- The U.S. is not leading and we saw that today

Carly Fiorina, Fox News Hannity 6/25/15

Video: Part 2

If we hadn't pulled out of Iraq:

- Of course that's the question
- Someone should be asking HRC
- Degradation is result of precipitous withdrawal
- Allies are saying we can't count on the U.S.
- On Day 1 I would call Bibi and Supreme Leader of Iran
- Iran is never going to agree to nuclear deal unless there is consistent pressure which this administration is unwilling to exert

History has proven that always intervening in the Middle East leads us to unfortunate consequences, for example Hillary's war in Libya. We had chaos, rise of radical Islam, Libya is now a failed state. Are we better off now with Qadhafi gone or would we have been better not going in in the first place?

'Sadly, this is the exact same attitude of politicians like Hillary Clinton and the Washington insiders who consistently put themselves above the laws the rest of Americans respect,' said Pataki spokesman David Catalfamo. 'It's clear to me that having that home server not only violated State Department rules and regulations, deleting those emails was probably a crime because she had good reason to know that Congress wanted to see what was in them,' Pataki said on Boston Herald Radio today. -HRC and Obama are trying to divide us. I'm tired of hyphenated Americans

Jeb Bush, In Iowa The Day After Discounting The Role Of Faith In Politics In New Hampshire, Decried The Fact That The Issues Of Prayer In Schools Had Been Decided By The Supreme Court And Noted He Was "Heavily Informed By My Faith In A Lot Of Things." "Bush's statement in New Hampshire also conflicted with comments he would make later in the week. The next morning he was in Iowa, where the first question Bush fielded was about what he could do 'to put God back in our school system ... and back into the forefront of our country.' Bush said the issue of religion in schools had 'unfortunately' been decided by the Supreme Court. He then pivoted to discuss the importance of religious liberty. 'It's not just in the church pews where you should be able to express your opinion, it's on the town square. And that's what's missing right now,' Bush said. He added: 'We're now at a point where people that do have faith that guides their decisions [are told] they need to keep it in a lockbox somewhere—keep it at home, keep a lock on it. And I think that's where we take our stand.' To leave no doubt about his kinship with Iowa's heavily-evangelical GOP electorate, Bush contrasted himself with Hillary Clinton, noting that 'I'm a Catholic and I'm informed by my faith in a lot of things.'" Jeb Bush Blasted Hillary Clinton And The Obama Administration For Suing Hobby Lobby And The Little Sisters Of The Poor Over Religious Objections To Obamacare, Arguing "Religious Freedom Now Is Under Attack More Than Ever Before." "Bush, who has run afoul of the GOP base by supporting immigration reform and Common Core education standards, emphasized his Catholicism and social conservatism. 'We shouldn't push aside those who believe in traditional marriage,' he said, touching on a subject he rarely brings up during his forays into Iowa and New Hampshire. As he did in his announcement speech in Miami Monday, Bush focused on his belief in religious freedom and blasted Hillary Clinton and the Obama administration for suing Hobby Lobby and Little Sisters of the Poor over their religious objections to Obamacare. 'Religious freedom now is under attack more than ever before,' Bush said, as he defended religion generally as 'the greatest force for good in the world.' -The 2016 race, domestically, will be centered on health care as the most dominant domestic issue in the country. If you're running for the house or you're running for the senate or you're running for president, here is what this supreme court ruling means. If the public wants to continue Obamacare, which I think would be a huge mistake, vote Democrat. If you want to repeal and replace Obamacare with something better for you and your family, bipartisan, vote Republican. Hillary Clinton, the most likely democratic nominee, will make Obamacare her own. Whoever the Republican party may nominate, the one thing I can assure you is that they will repeal and replace Obamacare with something better.

CRUZ: What I say is we should use this opportunity to address the real problem, which is that Obamacare has driven health insurance premiums through the roof. Remember, President Obama promised the average family's health insurance premiums would drop $2500 under Obamacare. In actuality, the average family's premiums have risen $3,000. I've joked on the campaign trail, every family whose premiums have dropped $2500, they should vote for Hillary Clinton. Jeb Bush Accused Bill De Blasio, “A Protégé Of Hillary Rodham Clinton,” For “Depriving Low-Income Kids Of The Education They Need To Succeed” By Championing The Cause Of Teachers Unions. “Sadly, teachers unions and much of the education establishment in America continues to fight against parental control of education. Mayor de Blasio, a protégé of Hillary Rodham Clinton, has taken up their cause, fighting to undercut school choice at every turn. Cuomo and the state Legislature passed a law guaranteeing charters rent-free access to unused public-school facilities. Yet these schools continue to face a constant barrage of political attacks and policies that constrain their growth. The Clintons, who have an outsize influence in New York politics, have largely stood by as Mayor de Blasio has attempted to undermine the benefits that the Success Academies and other school-choice programs have provided to low-income children. [Q&A]

Do you feel that your salary was too high?

- There are some cases that CEO pay appears to be egregious
- You have to let shareholders vote on it and you have to be transparent
- That was the case for me
- My pay was calculated based upon progress and success of the business
- I don't hear HRC ever saying baseball players or Hollywood moguls make too much

Climate Change

George Pataki: “The Notion Espoused By Some In My Party ... That The Pope Lacks Standing To Lend His Voice On The Issue Of Climate Change Is Absurd.” “One Republican candidate, former New York governor George Pataki, pushed back in a statement last week at GOP rivals. ‘The notion espoused by some in my party ... that the pope lacks standing to lend his voice on the issue of climate change is absurd. Further, to suggest there is a not a moral component to governance and public policy is equally absurd,' Pataki said. However, he went on to say the Obama-Clinton approach to climate change has been a 'disaster.' He promised his own plan 'in coming weeks.'" Kathie Obradovich, Des Moines Register, [6/20/15]

Charleston Shooting

Trump Hit Back At The Hillary Clinton's Remarks That His Rhetoric Could Lead To Racial Hatred Similar To What Was Seen During The Charleston Shooting, Claiming It Was "Totally Inappropriate For Mrs. Clinton To Exploit This Terrible Tragedy And Use It As An Opportunity To Attack Donald Trump." "Clinton suggested Thursday that Trump's comments about Mexicans, during his campaign announcement speech three days earlier, could incite racial hatred like that which led to white male Dylann Roof on Wednesday evening allegedly killing nine black people attending a bible study inside the Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church, in Charleston, S.C....Mr. Trump believes that Hillary Clinton does not have any credibility when she blames words for violence. ... It is totally inappropriate for Mrs. Clinton to exploit this terrible tragedy and use it as an opportunity to attack Donald Trump." "The 21-year-old Roof had reportedly made racists remarks and threats of violence well before Trump's speech. Trump responded on social media to Clinton's apparent criticism of him. 'Wow it's pretty pathetic that Hillary Clinton just blamed me for the horrendous attack that took place in South Carolina,' he said on Instagram. 'This is why politicians are just no good. Our country is in trouble.' Trump also post several responses Friday on his Facebook page and pointed out that he cancelled a campaign event in South Carolina. 'Mr. Trump believes that Hillary Clinton has lost all credibility when she blames him for the horrible incident in South Carolina. Why would Mrs. Clinton attack Donald Trump for something that he has nothing to do with?' he wrote in one post. 'Mr. Trump continues to send his prayers and condolences to the people of South Carolina.' He also wrote: 'Mr. Trump believes that Hillary Clinton does not have any credibility when she blames words for violence. ... It is totally inappropriate for Mrs. Clinton to exploit this terrible tragedy and use it as an opportunity to attack Donald Trump. She must be nervous about something.'" Fox News, [6/21/15]
